

Supplier Registration

We welcome all small and diverse suppliers who can add value to our products and meet our requirements on a competitive basis to register as prospective suppliers to our U.S. operating companies. If you are interested in registering, or returning to update your previous registration, please go to <https://cvmas15.cvm solutions.com/jnj/> where you will find our third-party database provider, CVM Solutions, to submit your registration information.

CVM Solutions is one of the tools in the Johnson & Johnson Supplier Diversity Program. Associates of Johnson & Johnson companies have or can obtain a license to search the CVM Solutions database for information on small and diverse businesses. Since CVM Solutions licenses the supplier information in its database to dozens of other Fortune 1000 customers, by registering with CVM Solutions, you will be introducing your company and its services to CVM Solutions' other customers as well.

*Please note that once you are redirected to the Supplier Registration page on CVM Solutions' Web site, all communication and/or submitted data is owned by CVM Solutions and governed by that company's privacy policy. Once you are registered, you will receive a PDF file with more information on contacting the individual operating companies or the department responsible for your company's products or services.

The Johnson & Johnson Family of Companies has adopted the following certification and/or validation guidelines for small and diverse suppliers:

Small Business – Register your company in the Central Contractor Registration (CCR) by visiting their Web site (<http://www.ccr.gov>) or be prepared, if asked, to self-certify that your company is a small business. To find out whether your company qualifies as a Small Business or not, visit the U.S. Small Business Administration "Office of Size Standards" Web site (<http://www.sba.gov>). Should your company be asked to participate in a bidding opportunity, we will ask you to verify your status at that time.

Minority-owned Business – Certification by the National Minority Supplier Development Council (NMSDC) is required. If you aren't NMSDC certified, you may find more information regarding certification by visiting NMSDC.org (<http://www.nmsdc.org>). Should your company be asked to participate in a bidding opportunity, we will ask you to verify your status at that time.

Woman-owned Business – Certification by the Women’s Business Enterprise National Council (WBENC) is required. You may find more information regarding certification by visiting their website at <http://wbenc.org>. Should your company be asked to participate in a bidding opportunity, we will ask you to verify your status at that time.

Veteran – owned Small Business or Service-Disabled-Veteran-owned Small Business – Register your company in the Central Contractor Registration (CCR) at their web site (<http://www.ccr.gov>) Should your company be asked to participate in a bidding opportunity, we will ask you to verify your status at that time.

Small Disadvantaged Business (SDB) – A company that is certified by the Small Business Administration (SBA) as a Small Disadvantaged Business (SDB) should already be registered in the Central Contractor Registration (CCR) at their Web site. In addition, should your company be asked to participate in a bidding opportunity, we will require a paper copy of the letter from the Small Business Administration certifying your company as a Small Disadvantaged Business.

HUBZone Small Business – A company that is certified by the Small Business Administration (SBA) as a HUBZone Small Business should already be registered in the Central Contractor Registration (CCR) at their Web site. In addition, should your company be asked to participate in a bidding opportunity, we will require a paper copy of the letter from the Small Business Administration approving your company as a HUBZone Small Business.

Please note: The Johnson & Johnson Family of Companies cannot and will not promise to transact business with all suppliers who register with us. Registration does not in any manner guarantee registrants that their company will be identified, contacted, evaluated or selected to enter any business relationships with a Johnson & Johnson operating company.
